

... the secret hidden inside ...

About the artist

Multi-talented Wim Scherpereel was born in 1967 in Kortrijk (Belgium). In his early works Wim always combined true craftsmanship with a fine sensitivity for aesthetics. During his exploration of materials and technology he developed a unique process of working with concrete. The Duqasch concrete culture was born! Wim's vision:

"I don't believe in boundaries when it comes to creation. It's my passion to explore and use this knowledge to bring something truly unique into the world."

concrete culture

Duqasch is excited to present a unique range of outdoor furniture. It's all made from high quality design concrete! Our products are strong, self-cleaning, not subject to discolouration and... surprisingly light! Just like rocks in a landscape our creations are everlasting. But wait... there's more than what meets the eye! Our table can be extended to reveal a beautifully crafted serving dish, barbecue, ice bucket or bio-heater. That's what makes our landmark objects and their hidden secrets concrete objects of true culture.

Design

Objects that are made to withstand the test of time also deserve to be timeless in beauty.

By only using pure forms and lines our products combine seamlessly with every surrounding.

Also the design of the accessories has been stripped down to its pure essentials. Enjoy every detail of this luxurious product that has been finished to the highest grade!

Unique

The properties of our concrete and artisan production process ensures that every Duqasch object is truly unique.

You express yourself by the world you create. Our modular product-concept enables You to do just that! Choose the table configuration that fits You best.

We would be delighted to welcome You on our website www.Duqasch.be and invite You to discover the possibilities of concrete culture!

Quality

Each one of our creations is entirely crafted & finished in our own atelier.

We personally select the finest, most durable & beautiful materials and process them with care & craftsmanship.

This ensures that we can offer you an exceptionally high quality product.
